

Rob Busboom Comedian

Welcome my name is Rob Busboom or as my friends call me "The Hurricane of Humor." I am a comedian, actor, writer, fundraiser and all around nice guy!.

Rob Busboom is funny even when he's being serious.

Busboom -- real name Rob Larkin -- studied physics for two years before deciding on a new career direction. He found he couldn't even use his real name because there was another comedian with the name Ron Larkin.

Busboom has appeared with television stars Kevin Meany, Jimmy Walker and Gabe Kaplan and has been a guest on the Bob and Tom radio show.

Onstage he is ebullient and animated. He says he tries to keep his 45 minute show "clean" and notes there is nothing in it a person wouldn't hear on television.

Rob has been in several commercials; a Hoosier Park Commercial where he played a large painted football fan, and a Prairie Farms Ice Cream commercial where he played an umpire.

The last few years have been a flurry of activity. He made it to the finals in the Indianapolis Comedy Contest, and he was selected as a Muscular Dystrophy Foundation Comedy Award Winner. Rob participated in the MTV VJ II contest which lead to an interview on MTV.

Rob was a guest on The Bob and Tom Show & Tom Griswold was so impressed he asked Rob to write for the show. Most Recently, Rob co-starred in the movie "Rice Girl". Rob played Meathead a down and out wrestler at the end of his career.

Rob's humor is clean, clever, creative, witty, and refreshing. He has been described as a combination between Louie Anderson and Chris Farley. He has worked with Emo Philips, Eddy Strange, Bob Zany, James Gregory, Bill Belamy, Dave Coulier, Kevin Meaney, Jimmy Walker, Gabe Kaplan Bill Kirckenbauer & Brad Sherwood.

Bio:

Well, lets start at the beginning. My father was a covert operative for the United States Government. In early 1971, he was working on an assignment for no other than Richard Nixon himself. My mother was a double agent working for both the German and Yugoslavian governments..

My father and mother were both after an Argentine spy named Mantek Pentron. You see Mr. Pentron was smuggling out of the U.S. the secret formula for twinkies.

My father and President Nixon didn't want the formula to fall into the hands of the Russians for obvious reasons, and my mother and her associates were afraid of the twinky, and the effects that it might have on the communist nation.

My father and mother had independently followed Mr. Pentron to a small island in the Mediterranean Sea. My mother, a savvy women, had established herself as Mr. Pentron's girlfriend in order to get the plans away from him. My father saw my mother as a means to get to Mr. Pentron not knowing she was a double agent.

My mother, not knowing my father was a secret agent, divulged her plans to steal the formula from Mr. Pentron. My father, not know that my mother was a secret agent, and that she was not stealing the plans for profit, but instead to help the communist cause, agreed to help her.

On August 7th my parents not knowing each others true identities as secret agents for opposing sides stole the formula for twinkies and fled to indonesia. It was there in indonesia that they discovered the truth about one another, and it was there that they fell in love with one another.

They agreed to move to a small town in Indiana, where they would mate and produce genetically enhanced children. They had two children one of whom is me. I was suppose to have extraordinary strength, size, agility, and intelligence. Instead they got a 6'4" 300 lb. boy with the mentality of a 12 year old who has no coordination.

My parents eventually got a divorce and moved as far away as they could get from one another, cultural differences.

Now I (Rob Busboom) the product of genetic engineering, and some chemical that McDonalds puts in there food has decided to go among you mortal human beings and make you laugh for no apparent reason. And that ladies and gentlemen is my story!
