

David Glickman
Comedian - Entertainer - Speaker

Corporate Comedian David Glickman provides clean, clever, customized comedy entertainment for your convention, meeting, sales rally or banquet.

This comedian will highlight your event with comedy material about YOUR people, YOUR industry, YOUR products, YOUR services. Comedian and professional speaker David Glickman will inspire and boost morale with great laughs and song parodies._

No two programs are ever alike. Your group will be highly flattered and impressed when they realize that you have had the program written “just for them.” A program that will only be used for that one event and never again.

This is not a comedian or humorist performing the same show they’ve done hundreds of times. This is The “Insert The Name of Your Group Here” Show, featuring laughs and songs all about you. The performance will entertain and boost morale. Most importantly, it will show your group that you really care about them. It will show them that you will go the extra step to give them something special.

Customized Corporate Comedy has been used for conventions, sales rallies, awards programs, after dinner entertainment, corporate retreats, holiday parties, and many other business functions. The program can also include any information or message you might want added for your group. It’s easy to do when the show is written specifically for you.

About David Glickman's Customized Corporate Comedy

David Glickman’s Customized Corporate Comedy has been used for conventions, sales rallies, awards programs, after dinner entertainment, corporate retreats, holiday parties, and many other business functions. The program can also include any information or message you might want added for your group. It’s easy to do when the show is written specifically for you.

Some clients request that the program be opened by David pretending to be a “subject matter expert” in their industry. Perhaps he can “roast” your dignitaries. He can also serve as a very funny Master of Ceremonies. He can also perform a non-customized comedy show as a second show for your event. Save money by using David for several functions at the same event.

The pre-show research places little or no burden on your staff or members. A few efficient telephone interviews usually take care of everything. The program requires very little in the way of audio-visual setup. For the musical portion of the program David “wears” a battery-powered musical keyboard around his neck on a strap. The keyboard is easily connected to the same sound system as the microphone. Audiences especially love the song parodies that close every program.

About David Glickman

David Glickman has been a full-time professional comedian for twenty years. He has performed over 2,000 comedy shows.

Before becoming a comedian, he earned a communications degree from the University of Florida. He worked for nearly a decade as a Manager of Public Relations and Marketing. In 1985, he switched from the “world of business” to “show business.”

Two years later, he opened South Florida’s first successful chain of comedy clubs. Initially named “Coconuts,” they later were renamed “Uncle Funny’s.” The clubs flourished. He also opened comedy clubs in several Atlantic City casinos.

David was featured in “Rolling Stone” magazine and scores of other publications. He was the opening act for stars such as Ellen DeGeneres, Ray Romano, Barbara Mandrell, Carol Channing, and many more. Steve Martin personally selected him from over 100 comics for an appearance on a CBS comedy program.

David sold the comedy clubs in 1992. He began focusing on shows for the corporate world. He began to get more national attention. He was selected the winner of the Entenmann’s National “Funniest Person In America” Contest from over 500 contestants. He was featured on “Evening At The Improv” and several other national television shows. He performed for Gloria Estefan’s birthday party. His ability to customize humorous material specifically to the client increased the demand for his services.

In 1995, David moved from Miami to Tampa. His list of corporate clients continues to grow as fast as the positive word-of-mouth and industry “buzz” that follows each of his performances. He is an active member of the National Speakers Association and is Past President of the National Speakers Association—Central Florida.

The Clients Speak About David Glickman

“Incredibly motivating and a great team-building experience. Haven’t seen anything like it in my 20 plus years of sales and sales management.”

Lenny Chesal_Sales Manager_AT & T

“I’m glad that we decided to go the ‘Custom Comedy’ route....It really showed my employees that we do care about them and won’t settle for the ordinary.”

Mark A. Mershon_Division Manager_IDS / American Express

“You created an outstandingly entertaining and hilarious performance, tailored specifically to my audience!”

Brandi Huff Bilyeu_Sales Development Executive_Home Box Office

“Your immediate grasp of the nuances of our business and your incredible ability to focus in on the personal hot spots of my staff left my audience in absolute hysterics. We all loved it and we all loved you.”

Steve Simon_Chairman and CEO_Canadian Auction Group

“As you know, it was a very important and stressful meeting for us, and you provided just the right touch of levity we needed to take the edge off of things.”

Nancy Berkowitz_Vice President_Mohawk Distilled Products

“We needed something to get the sales force really motivated and your show was the perfect way to do it.”

Fran Sevcik_Director of Public Relations_Norwegian Cruise Line

“It was the perfect way to end a long day of meetings: lighthearted and funny, but in good taste.”

Janis Altshuler_Production/Promotions Manager_The Sports Authority

“Using a scale where 5.0 is the highest, you were the highest rated speaker/entertainer with a 4.7.”