

Speaking of Andy Greenberg...

For more than 11 years, Andy has been mentoring and training people, both formally and informally. From casual conversations with friends and colleagues to official presentations at large businesses and associations, Andy's desire to inspire is far-reaching. He has become known as a "Life and Business Builder." Andy's love of counsel was not born professionally; it grew organically. He is passionate about people and relationships, and it shows. People are drawn to his natural enthusiasm and find his desire to live life to the fullest nothing short of inspirational.

Andy also enjoys travel (he's been to 67 countries!). His devotion to exploration feeds his presentation style. He wisely and naturally finds connections between different customs, philosophies and societies – taking common beliefs and turning them into opportunities to teach personal and professional growth.

But what comes most genuinely to Andy is his charm and uncomplicated style of communication. He makes sure everyone he speaks to can understand even deeply complex concepts and that each individual in the room, no matter how large the audience, feels his desire to inspire.

"You certainly woke up a part of me that had been sleeping for most of my adult life..." Joan Cahalan, National Stuttering Association

Thank you for speaking to the Omaha chapter of the American Society for Training and Development (ASTD Nebraska) today. Your topic, "Secrets of Inspirational Instruction," was exactly the kind of program I was hoping for. In fact, it exceeded my expectations! As a corporate trainer, I plan to immediately implement the key ideas and tools you gave us...You are clearly an expert in public speaking and training and it was such a pleasure to attend your program this morning.

-Cat Rawlings, CPLP, Corporate Trainer, Applied Underwriters

You made the subject come alive with your stories and witty comments. Your knack of walking around the room, making eye contact with our folks and calling on them to offer their own personal experiences made for a very effective program. I would be pleased to speak to anyone who is considering using you a speaker.

-L Rafal, Dean of Law, Touro Law

I have been selling for 45 years and today you taught me ways that I have never seen or heard before that will make be better and allow me to increase sales and enjoyment of life.
