Andy,

I enjoyed your presentation this morning. As a veteran facilitator, presenter and self proclaimed motivational speaker I was surprised by the many ideas and concepts I was able to take away from your presentation this morning.

I begin frantically taking notes until you said your slides would be made available. As you can imagine my note taking style changed once I knew the memory joggers I need to make sense from my cryptic notes would be provided. Anxiously looking for that link.

Thanks again for a very entertaining and educational experience this morning.

Andy,

Thank you for speaking to the Omaha chapter of the American Society for Training and Development (ASTD Nebraska) today. Your topic, "Secrets of Inspirational Instruction," was exactly the kind of program I was hoping for. In fact, it exceeded my expectations! As a corporate trainer, I plan to immediately implement the key ideas and tools you gave us. I especially liked the card tricks and activities--they were dynamic and engaging. You are clearly an expert in public speaking and training and it was such a pleasure to attend your program this morning.

Best regards,

Dear Andy,

Please accept my sincerest appreciation and gratitude for your willingness and valuable time to come and speak to the teen and adult members of our Omaha NSA (National Stuttering Association) support groups this past Thursday evening. I can't speak for everyone, (nor would I ever!) but you certainly woke up a part of me that had been sleeping for most of my adult life! I wish you nothing but the best, because I know you'll not settle for anything less!

Best regards and thank you once again,

Joan Cahalan M.S., CCC-SLP, BRS-FD
Omaha, Nebraska

You made the subject come alive with your stories and witty comments. Your knack of walking around the room, making eye contact with our folks and calling on them to offer their own personal experiences made for a very effective program. I would be pleased to speak to anyone who is considering using you a speaker.

L Raful Dean of Law-Touro Law

It was a fantastic thought provoking presentation! Thank you so much for being there and sharing your thoughts and engaging the audience. I had a blast! Wishing you only the best and continued success.

Ericka Heidvogel, Education Director, Omaha Women's Council of Realtors

I have received compliments on your presentation at our Sales Meeting. The newer sales representatives were very appreciative of the focus you gave them on how to present themselves. The more seasoned representatives said that you really made them think about how they approach the market. Thank you for traveling to Fargo I hope you found your trip as rewarding as we did.

I enjoyed your presentation last night very much. Yes, I found it very motivating. Even more in my personal life at this current time than in my professional life.

And I know that everything that you said applies to both. What you presented is a daily way of life that can't help but have good affects in all areas. Thank you for sharing. I feel a renewed energy for life this morning and I am taking steps to apply this new energy daily and throughout the day. Thank you again.

Andy-

Great job this morning! It was impactful to hear these basic concepts and you made it sound so attainable. It's a nice change to give our people the training on just doing better in their life as opposed to that work task, what a great way to start off the week! We will look into this for other stores and see what we can do with you in the future.

Andy Greenberg presentation to the Aksarben section of the Institute of Food Technologists

Andy Greenberg spoke at the Aksarben section of the Institute of Food Technologists (IFT) at Amato's restaurant in Omaha, Nebraska. A group of 33, consisting of Food Scientists and Food Technology and Nutrition students from the University of Nebraska, Lincoln attended the meeting. After enjoying a home cooked dinner prepared by Sam Amato, Andy presented the story of how Skinner Baking created and launched Roulade and unique special occasion pastry sold in the frozen section. The presentation was engaging, amusing and informative. Learning how Skinner Baking transformed itself from a pasta producer to one of the largest private label pastry and baked goods manufacturers was interesting. Andy's enthusiasm is infectious and inspiring. Both the seasoned Food Scientists and the students came away from this meeting seeing how a small, local company can leverage its resources to create and market a novel national product. To paraphrase Andy, "Don't say you can't do it; just say you haven't done it yet." - Jeff Schweid, Conagra Foods

Speaker November 2007 Kosher Fest

It was a pleasure having you as a speaker for Kosherfest 2007. You are so professional and easy to work with. After your session, attendees were raving about what a dynamic speaker you are and wanted to know when they could hear you present again! Thank you for helping to make our show a success. We look forward to working with you again in years to come.

MOTIVATION

Thanks Andy. I've been meaning to get back with about your presentation at the in-service. Nothing but high praises from the instructors, particularly the newer folk. I found it refreshing to here how we can simply act in front of the students to give them feeling of purpose to attend school. Passion is easy to show if the passion is there. And most of our folks have passion for teaching what they teach. Sometimes after working hard all day, adjunct instructors fail to see how important it is to show passion for there subject.

Thanks again Andy, Monte Spikes, Dean of Academic Affairs, ITT Technical Institute

Hello Mr. Greenberg,

I really enjoyed your speech this last week. The crowd interactions were great as it was obvious that they all got into it and the concepts were all very practical, which is essential with such a diverse audience.

Sincerely, McKenzie Steger, President Nebraska Future Farmers association

Andy, __Thank you for taking the time out of your busy schedule, especially since you had some prior work commitments! You did a great job of motivating our group! I heard nothing but wonderful comments. Obviously, several people wanted a copy of your presentation! __You were able to get audience participation and they truly enjoyed the exchange. I thought the whole evening went very well considering we started a bit later than usual! __Thank you again for you motivational talk and for the donation of baked goods from the James Skinner Baking Company. I bid on them and lost, however the nice lady who won gave me a dozen cinnamon rolls and they were delicious! __I will keep you in mind for presentations at our Nebraska Farm Bureau events in the future! __Thanks again, __Best Regards __Tina M. SALES TRAINING

Andy,

Overall, the presentation packed a lot of useful and practical sales techniques into a small amount of time. There is little doubt in my mind that if we internalize 25% of what was presented; our "opening" rate will improve.

Your presentation style is positive, upbeat and maintains the listener's interest. Our service manager, who was not in attendance, but was working late and could hear your speech, commented the next day on your positive attitude and professional presentation style.

I was also impressed with the fact that you had done some homework and were able to tailor the presentation somewhat to our organization and product offerings. I know this was difficult given the time your scant knowledge of Superior Lighting.

I hope we can work together in the future. You have much to offer.
Ed Hagstrom Chief Financial Officer Superior Lighting Inc.

2008 Reviews

Hi Andy, __ Thank you so much for joining us last night. Your presentation was wonderful and followed the objectives of our Meet the Chapter Night perfectly. I heard nothing but positive comments from everyone in the group. Several people asked how I had found you and said it was "The best speaker we have ever heard." I don't think there's much more than that for me to say. We have had a lot of speakers in the past, and most of them discuss their careers and maybe a few things they learned along the way. However, the motivational tools have never been included. I know there are a lot of members who have lost the excitement of Delta Sigma Pi. Your speech showed our potential members AND current members that the organization can really impact their lives with speakers who discuss their experiences and offer relevant advice. __ I will forward your request about the pictures from last night to our Historian, Megan Knudson. It will probably be easier for her to send them directly to you. __ Congratulations on all of your accomplishments! I know we were all very impressed! __ Thank you again, _Crystal

Mr. Greenberg,

The presentation well exceed my expectations! I thought you did an excellent job, many people mentioned throughout the week that you were "the best speaker Delta Sigma Pi has ever had". I could not agree more. My advice would be to continue speaking and motivating as many people as You can. Thank you for the opportunity to learn from you, if there is every anyway our organization or myself can help you out let me know.

Thanks, Amanda Johnson

Andy,

I wanted to share a student review with you regarding your substituting for Economics class last night. You must have done an incredible job to receive such a wonderful and impressive review from a student that isn't normally so impressed. This demonstrates that to me that you do have a passion for instruction that definitely came across to the students and for that I wanted to thank you. Instructors like you are the ones that make it possible for these students to become academically successful!! Keep up the great job and what a nice warm welcome for your first evening of teaching at ITT!!

Thanks, Cameron Arthur at 066 Chair, School of Criminal Justice ,ITT Technical Institute

Andrew,

I thoroughly enjoyed your engaging, no-nonsense presentation yesterday. My team and I came away with some great information and ideas. Thank you for sharing!

Wow! Wish I had been there! Thank you for sending.....going to go back through it again. I especially like "building your business" on OUTCOMES rather than benefit marketing and selling. That is what I am most proud of.....so that is what I should be doing. Like I said, wish I had been able to come to your presentation.

I want to thank you for volunteering your time to provide our local area chamber members with such valuable information. Your energy level was high, the information was great and the personal experiences pulled it all together. If you take charge everyday like you did this morning I can only imagine how successful of a sales team you lead. Thanks again! -

Thanks, and once again, great job this morning! Useful information well presented. - Gerry Phelan, Peak Pathways L.L.C.

I thought the sales workshop was great and got some good ideas, enjoyed the stories, and thought the other participants really enjoyed it as well. You're a great speaker and made the time fly by with your enthusiasm. I especially liked the way you involved the participants by using their particular situations to incorporate your strategies for selling. It was time well spent and great to see you again. You can quote me on that!

Have a productive week! - Roger L. Hays, Senior Vice President, VantagePoint, Inc. / Career Partners Inte
