

Milo Tremley
Musical Comedian

"Dr. Phil meets Hee Haw"

Milo Tremley is a one-of-a-kind amazingly amusing writer and singer of very funny songs.

Self-proclaimed "dean of human relations", Professor Milo incorporates music as a "teaching device". Peppering his 55 minute program with such ditties as "Go Ugly Early", "If Your Heart's As Big As Your Butt Is" and "Baby's Gone Musclebound", Professor Milo suggest dozens of ways to ruin a perfectly normal marriage.

Milo Tremley is a unique combination of hard laugh humor and music that makes him one of the most entertaining and sought-after headliners on the comedy circuit today.

Milo has been heard on the popular syndicated radio shows "Bob and Tom" and "Doctor Demento" as well as numerous radio and television stations around the country.

James Lee Reeves began his entertainment career while attending UCLA. He graduated with a degree in history but his natural comedic talent and strong love for music led him to the entertainment field. It was during this period that the ne'er-do-well, self-acclaimed star Milo Tremley was born.

"...The man is an amazing ball of concentrated talent and all around dynamic performer. Milo Tremley can unashamedly call himself a real entertainer and laugh merchant par excellence! They just don't come any funnier!"

.."To say he was a SMASHING SUCCESS is an understatement! He galvanized the 7,500 capacity concert audience with the most entertaining, original and unique set of the evening and was rewarded with standing ovations, great laughs and thundering applause!" - Mike Ginsburg, KWNR/95.5 FM - Las Vegas

"Milo is absolutely incredible! He's one of the most original comedians I've ever seen! He should be a superstar!" - Anthony Lane, Planet Gemini, Monterey, CA

" Milo is wonderful! He's off the wall, and refreshing... I wish we could have him every month!" - Mitzi Shore, The Comedy Shore, Los Angeles. CA
